Mission

The Master of Arts in Liberal Studies Program opens the door to new ways of thinking. Increasingly, one of the central problems in the business and professional world is how to handle new information, what to do with it, how to use it, how to understand its rhythms and patterns, how to make it make sense.

Goals

Our program is dedicated to providing students with an interdisciplinary education at the graduate level that prepares them through a rigorous course of inquiry and thought, to winnow information, evaluate it, array it in meaningful ways, discern its patterns and symmetries, and apply it in whatever field they chose.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Students will have the ability to analyze and read texts critically.
- Students will demonstrate the ability to express critical thinking skills in their written work with accuracy and insight.
- The student demonstrates new ways of thinking through the study of various disciplines.
