Degree Programs
Known for its aesthetic diversity and openness to the ever-changing and progressive world of composition, the Frost School of Music’s Department of Music Theory and Composition (https://composition.frost.miami.edu/) has a long tradition of distinguished faculty and students. When today’s post-baccalaureate composers decide to pursue a Master’s Degree in Composition, they look to Frost faculty composers for inspiration and mentoring. At Frost, graduate students are well coached to take the next steps toward their professional maturation. They work one-on-one with our dedicated faculty to expand their music portfolios, enter competitions, apply for commissions and network in the music profession. Candidates for the Doctor of Musical Arts in Composition (D.M.A.) develop advanced research and teaching skills that are applicable to careers in higher education. For more information, please visit the website for the department of Music Theory and Composition (https://composition.frost.miami.edu/).
