MINOR IN HUMAN AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT

- The requirements of the minor are 15 credit hours with a grade of C or better.
- Nine of these 15 credit hours must be earned at the University of Miami; with prior approval, three of these nine may be taken through the UM Study Abroad Program.
- All transfer course equivalencies, (up to 6 credits), must be approved by the EPS department.
- EPS 201 is required
- Two courses must be upper division courses (at or above the 300 level)
- The undergraduate coursework in Human and Social Development is open to all qualified University of Miami students.
- Determination for using these courses as a minor, as a specialization, and/or as electives in any program, is made by the individual student’s degree granting college or school.
