

MUSIC EDUCATION (MED)

A basic premise of the Music Education (<https://musiced.frost.miami.edu/>) program is that music teachers must be both musicians and teachers; thus, competency as a musician is equally as important as having a strong theoretical and practical foundation in music education. Carefully coordinated courses emphasize sequencing of instruction in terms of student's musical development and incorporate ideas drawn from theory, research, and the practical experiences of the faculty and other successful practitioners. The program seeks to transcend all areas of music teaching and learning, from birth to older adulthood, and from public schools to community programs, allowing the principles of pedagogy to be applied broadly in a wide variety of contexts. For more information, please visit the website for the Music Education program (<https://musiced.frost.miami.edu/>).
