Introduction

The Department of Strategic Communication offers majors in Advertising and Public Relations and minors in Advertising, Public Relations and Strategic Communication.

Students majoring in Advertising learn the art, craft, and business of promoting brands, products, and services from an integrated marketing perspective. The program is very hands-on, and prepares students to enter into the ever-changing and ever-evolving world of advertising. Students are given the opportunity to work with real-world clients to solve real-world problems as a part of their advertising education. Advertising majors also have opportunities to complete internships, be a part of the School of Communication’s student-run agency, The Orange Umbrella, and participate in networking events industry professionals via the AdGroup, which is affiliated with the American Advertising Federation.

Students majoring in Public Relations learn how to promote a client's business, image, product, service, or organization. Our curriculum teaches students how to communicate effectively across all media channels, and how to develop strategies to promote the goals of many different types of public and private organizations, including for-for-profit businesses, non-profit organizations, governmental organizations, or individuals. Public Relations majors have multiple opportunities to work with real-world clients and solve real-world problems as part of their public relations education. Public Relations majors also have opportunities to complete internships, be a part of the School of Communication's student-run agency, The Orange Umbrella, and participate in networking events industry professionals via PRSSA, which is affiliated with the Public Relations Society of America.

Degree Programs

The Bachelor of Science in Communication is offered in Advertising and Public Relations

 Majors are offered in:

- Advertising Creative Track
- Advertising Management Track
- Public Relations

Each candidate for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Communication will complete the School of Communication’s requirements including courses in the School’s General Education Required Areas of Study. All majors must also complete a separate minor or a second major in either a second Program of Study within the School or in an academic program outside the School.

Admission to the Advertising and Public Relations Majors

- Students who have obtained the written approval of the Chair of Strategic Communication to use transfer credit hours to satisfy one or more requirements of that major may be required to complete additional courses in residence at the University before being admitted to that major.
Upon completion of a student's first 45 University credit hours while enrolled in the School of Communication, all University credit hours earned toward the major will be used in computing a student's major cumulative grade point average; only those students with a cumulative average of 2.5 or higher will be admitted to a major.

A student who has completed 45 credit hours while enrolled in the School of Communication, but who has not been admitted to one of the Communication majors, may be dismissed from the School. A student who has completed 60 University credit hours while enrolled in the School, but who has not been admitted to one of the Communication majors, will be dismissed from the School.
